The core scientific and clinical wellness philosophy of Transformation Enzyme Corp. is based on three intricate physio-biochemical needs: support digestion, improve circulation, and facilitate the elimination of waste. Our starting point is simple, and the three core formulas of the Transformation Professional Protocol (TPP) product line were designed with this in mind:

- TPP Digest assists with the proper digestion of proteins, carbohydrates, and fats necessary for the body to sustain health and vitality.
- TPP Protease promotes adequate blood circulation for proper transport of nutrients, hormones, white blood cells, etc. and for the timely removal of wastes.
- TPP Probiotic maintains a good microflora within the GI tract, which is an integral part of the body's biochemical and homeostatic basis.
